Sub: Master Circular on Protection of Interests of Policyholders

1. Background

Insurance sector has embarked upon the journey to achieve the vision of 'Insurance for All' by 2047. Various regulatory reforms have been undertaken in this direction by taking up measures to protect interests of policyholders, prioritizing ease of doing business, encouraging innovation, competition, strengthen governance framework to foster growth and self-reliance in the insurance sector. The interests of policyholder have been at the core of all the initiatives undertaken which emphasize insurers and distribution channels to fulfill their obligations towards policyholders, including effective grievance redressal mechanisms and governance structures centered around policyholder welfare. Regulations on these aspects have been reviewed comprehensively and the Insurance Regulatory and Development Authority of India (Protection of Policyholders' Interests, Operations and allied Matters of insurers) Regulations, 2024 (hereinafter called "Regulations") was notified on 22nd March, 2024. This is second of the two Master Circulars issued under these Regulations. The first Master Circular may be accessed at <https://irdai.gov.in/document-detail?documentId=5083599>.

2. Provisions relating to Protection of Interests of Policyholders are being covered in this circular. The master circular contains two sections as under:

Section I - Information for Prospects/Policyholders/Customers

An insurance contract is a contract between the insurer and the policyholder which is effected through a policy document. Under an insurance contract, the insurer accepts insurance risk from the policyholder by agreeing to compensate the policyholder, as per the terms and conditions of the policy document, against happening of uncertain future insured event(s) affecting the policyholder. The insured events may include the risk of death, disability, sickness, damage to or loss of property, vehicle etc.,

An insurance company (also called "insurer") issues a policy document (also called "policy" or "policy contract" or "insurance contract") by accepting an amount called "premium" from the prospects to issue an insurance contract. Insurance claims arising out of insurance contracts are paid by the insurer to the policyholder or beneficiary, subject to the terms and conditions of the policies.

The following sections are aimed at providing relevant information that the prospect/policyholder should know before and after buying an insurance policy:

- (a) Part A: covers various stages of Life Insurance Policies.
- (b) Part B: covers various stages of Health Insurance Policies.
- (c) Part C: covers various stages of Retail General Insurance Policies.

2.	Purchase of Life insurance policy <ul style="list-style-type: none"> i. Life Insurance products are offered only by Life insurers registered with IRDAI. A prospect can buy such products from a life insurer directly or through any of the distribution channels. ii. Such purchase can be made either by visiting the office of an Insurer/ distribution channel or online by visiting the website of the insurer /distribution channel. iii. "Distribution channel" for purchasing insurance products, includes individual agents, corporate agents, insurance brokers, web aggregators, insurance marketing firms, Common Service Centres, etc. Authorized distribution channels to sell insurance products may be verified from the respective websites of insurance companies whose products are offered for sale. iv. In case of availing insurance cover for loans like housing or any other kind of loans, the prospect may note as under: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a. it is not compulsory to purchase insurance policy through the financial institution giving loan. He / She is free to buy insurance policy from any insurer or through any distribution channel through any mode. b. he/she may check whether the features /options of the insurance policy like type of policy; tenure of policy; periodicity of premium payment etc., are matching with the type of loan being taken.
3	Advertisements <ul style="list-style-type: none"> i. Insurance companies and distribution channels may advertise the insurance products offered for sale. Such advertisements could be in the form of television advertisements, radio announcements, social media circulations, newspaper advertisements, pamphlets or leaflets etc. Generally, the information available in such advertisements are indicative and may not provide complete details of the product. ii. Insurance advertisements carry the registered name of the insurers and unique identification number (UIN) of the insurance products, wherever insurance product is advertised. iii. Before purchasing any insurance product, the prospect should read the prospectus of the product along with the customized benefit illustrations shared by the insurer/distribution channels. The prospect may also verify the details of the product from the website of the insurer.

4	Prospectus <ul style="list-style-type: none"> i. In order to explain the features, benefits, exclusions, and various other details offered in insurance products, insurers are required to have prospectus for each of the product offered by them for sale. They are uploaded on their website. ii. To understand specific details of any insurance product/s, a prospect may read the prospectus available on the insurer's website or may ask the representative of the insurer or distribution channel to provide the same.
5	Suitability for life insurance: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> i. Assessment of suitability for life insurance shall be carried out in respect of savings related life insurance products and annuity products except those annuities purchased from proceeds of NPS and from employer offered superannuation fund. Insurer/distribution channel who source insurance policy obtain details like need for buying insurance, income of the prospect and affordability, various needs to be met by insurance policy, expected benefits, type of benefits needed etc., duly confirmed by the Prospect and the concerned sales person involved in solicitation. Based on the information obtained from the prospect, the insurer or distribution channel, as the case may be, shall recommend a suitable product(s) meeting the needs of the prospect. Such need analysis shall be documented and copy of the same is provided to the prospect and copies of such need analysis shall be part of the policy document. ii. A prospect can benefit from recommendations of the insurer/distribution channel / sales person to decide on a suitable insurance product. However, he/she is also free to choose any other insurance product/s, if he/she desires so.
II	At proposal stage
1	Benefit Illustration (BI) While prospectus provides an overall general information about the insurance product, customized benefit illustration provides specific benefits that would become payable on occurrence of various events covered in the policy based on the customer specific details like age, premium amount, premium paying term, policy term etc. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a. In addition to the prospectus of the relevant insurance product, every life insurer/distribution channel/ authorized sales person must provide customized benefit illustration to proposer / prospective policyholder, at the point of sale. b. Customized benefit illustration is a document which gives details of the benefits that a prospective policyholder may get on various events covered in the policy throughout the

	term of the policy, taking into account details like age of the prospect, proposed policy term, premium, premium paying term of the policy etc. c. The prospective policyholder should examine the benefit illustration and on being satisfied that the benefits offered under the product meet his / her needs, he / she should sign the benefit illustration. It shall also be signed by the authorized sales person. d. Customized Benefit illustration format is as specified at Schedule B. After it is signed by the prospective policyholder and the authorized sales person, it shall be part of the policy document.
2	Splitting of Policies i. Insurance policies with respect to an insurance product, can be taken for desired sum assured as a single policy or can be split into multiple policies with varied sum assured as per the needs of the prospect. However, if multiple policies of the same nature are sold to a prospect at the same time, it will be deemed as splitting of policies. Splitting of policies shall be done only at the option and specific request of the prospect after recording his/her consent. ii. In case the prospect is planning to take more than one policy of the same product, the prospect should examine the possible discounts that the insurer generally offers on premiums and sum assured. Insurance policies may provide discounts on premium in case of higher sum assured or higher premium amounts. If such policies are split into more than one policy, the policyholder may not be able to get such premium or sum assured based discounts offered by the insurer. Further, in case of Unit Linked Insurance policies, splitting of policies may result in deduction of higher amount of charges, as some charges may be levied on per policy basis. iii. In case of splitting of policies, unless there is a specific request from the Prospect, such action shall not result into any additional cost to the policyholder by way of increase (directly or indirectly) in fees or charges or the commission in whatsoever name either at the inception of the policy or at any time during the term of the policy.
3	Proposal Form i. For purchasing a life insurance policy, the life insurer will require a proposal form to be submitted by the prospect. ii. 4	Payment of premium / premium deposit: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> i. Premium is required to be paid only after the insurer communicates the decision of acceptance of the proposal. ii. Risk Cover shall commence only after receipt of premium.

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> iii. No premium deposit / proposal deposit is required to be paid to the insurer along with the proposal form except in case of policies issued basis declaration of good health where risk cover commences immediately on receipt of premium. There should not be scope for either short or excess collection of premium. iv. Insurers shall ensure that explicit consent is obtained from the prospect/policyholder for deduction of amount towards premium payment from bank account.
5	Nomination <ul style="list-style-type: none"> i. While filling the proposal form, prospect is required to provide the details of the nominee. ii. Nomination is mandatory to facilitate payment of claim amount in case of death of life assured. iii. Policyholder may nominate one or more persons and specify the percentage of claim amount payable to each nominee. iv. Where any nominee is a minor, it shall be lawful for the policyholder to appoint any person in the manner laid down by the insurer, to receive the money secured by the policy in the event of his/her death during the minority of the nominee. v. Nomination can be changed at any time during the term of the policy.
6	Processing of proposal forms (Underwriting of the proposal): <ul style="list-style-type: none"> i. On receipt of the proposal form, the insurer shall process the proposal with speed and efficiency. In case of requirement of further details/clarifications on details given in the proposal form, the same should be called for in one-go and not on piecemeal basis within 7 days from the date of receipt of the proposal form. ii. In such case, the prospect should provide such information at the earliest so that the decision on the proposal form can be taken with speed and efficiency. iii. The insurer shall take decision on the proposal form within 7 days of receipt of information at para 6 (i) or 6 (ii) as applicable. On acceptance of the proposal form, the insurer shall: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a) promptly communicate its decision to the prospect along with the premium payable. b) provide coverage from the date of receipt of premium. iv. In case of non-acceptance of proposal, insurer shall inform the prospect its decision within 7 days along the reasons for non-acceptance. v. After the acceptance of a proposal, the prospect will be referred to as the "policyholder or life assured or insured". The person whose risk of loss of life is covered is called 'life

	assured' or 'insured'. The person in whose name insurance policy is issued is called "policyholder. vi. A policyholder or a life assured can be same or different.
7	Issuance of the insurance policy Insurer, on acceptance of the proposal and upon receipt of the premium, issues the insurance policy in electronic form. Choice of the prospect/policyholder/customer for availing physical policy document shall be mandatorily sought in the proposal form. All policies issued in electronic form by the insurer directly to the policyholder shall also be issued in physical form, if requested by the policyholder. Policies issued in electronic form shall be digitally signed by the insurer.

Group Insurance Policies

1. There are two types of group insurance policies viz Employer-Employees and Non-Employer-Employees policies.
2. In case a group insurance policy is issued to an employer-employee group:
 - i. the employer shall be treated as the group master policyholder and the employees shall be treated as the members of the group.
 - ii. the employer shall share the group insurance policy to all the members of the group in confirmation of insurance protection of each individual member.
 - iii. except for group fund-based products, in all other cases, claims shall be paid directly to the employee or the beneficiary as the case may be.
3. In case a group insurance policy is issued to a non-employer-employee group:
 - i. the individual group member shall be the insured member and the holder of the policy shall be the master policyholder.
 - ii. the insurer shall issue a certificate of insurance giving details of group policies viz., schedule of benefits, period of cover, premium to be paid, terms of the policy, exclusion etc. to all the members of the group.
 - iii. The insurer shall ensure that the premium paid by the members of the Group is remitted directly to them. Hence, individual members should directly pay the premium to the insurer preferably through electronic transfer. Insurer shall settle claims directly to the members/beneficiary of the group.
 - iv. The insurer shall ensure that the claim payment is made:
 - a) in the name of the insured member or his/her nominee directly through electronic transfer to the claimant's bank account except for cases referred to clause (b) below.
 - b) in the name of the master policyholder, if it is a financial institution, in whose favour there is a valid assignment, subject to the following conditions being satisfied:
 - there is authorized assignment made by the insured member in favor of the group holder of the policy on the date of event;
 - such authorized assignment shall only be to the extent of outstanding dues on loan as per the outstanding loan schedule on the date of occurrence of the event;

Schedule B
Form and manner of policy documents and Benefits Illustration
(refer clause 4.1)

1. All insurers shall provide benefit illustration as per the requirements of each product or combination of products and is customized as per requirements of the prospect, if required.
2. Insurers shall also provide customized benefit illustration in the format on their websites so as to enable the customers to make out the difference while opting for coverage.
3. Every insurer shall, as applicable, provide benefit illustrations to prospects or policyholders at the point of sale for all products, except for the following products:
 - a. Regular Premium Pure term products
 - b. Regular Premium Pure health products
 - c. Group term products
 - d. Group credit life products
 - e. Group fund based products
4. The calculation of net yield for Linked products is illustrated for the information of insurers.
5. The illustrations shall be clear and fair to enable a customer to make an informed decision. They shall clearly distinguish between guaranteed and non-guaranteed benefits and state that the quantum of benefits in respect of non-guaranteed category may vary.
6. Insurers shall review the assumptions used in the benefit illustrations during the annual actuarial valuation and revise the benefit illustrations wherever required.
7. Except for those life insurance products where all the benefits are assured in absolute amounts at the outset of the contract, all other life insurance products shall provide the prospective policyholder a customized benefit illustration at the point of sale, illustrating the guaranteed and non-guaranteed benefits at gross investment returns as stipulated by the Authority. Considering the dynamic nature of movement of interest rates, such gross investment returns are currently stipulated as 4% p.a. and 8% p.a, for other than annuity products.

How to read and understand this benefit illustration?

This benefit illustration is intended to show what charges are deducted from your premiums and how the unit fund, net of charges and taxes, may grow over the years of the policy term if the fund earns a gross return of 8% p.a. or 4% p.a. These rates, i.e., 8% p.a. and 4% p.a. are assumed only for the purpose of illustrating the flow of benefits if the returns are at this level. It should not be interpreted that the returns under the plan are going to be either 8% p.a. or 4% p.a.

Net yield mentioned corresponds to the gross investment return of 8% p.a. net of all charges but does not consider mortality, morbidity charges, underwriting extra if any, guarantee charges and cost of riders, if deducted by cancellation of units. It demonstrates the impact of charges and taxes on the net yield. Please note that the mortality charges per thousand sum assured, in general increases with age.

The actual returns can vary depending on the performance of the chosen fund, charges towards mortality, morbidity, underwriting extra, cost of riders etc., The investment risk in this policy is borne by the policy holder, hence, for more details on terms and conditions please read sales literature carefully.

Part A of this statement presents a summary view of year-by-year charges deducted under the policy, fund value surrender Value and the death benefit, at two assumed rates of return. Part B of this statement presents a detailed break-up of the charges and other values.

How to read and understand this benefit illustration?

This benefit illustration is intended to show year-wise premiums payable and benefits under the policy, at two assumed rates of interest, i.e., 8% p.a and 4% p.a. Some benefits are guaranteed and some benefits are variable with returns based on the future performance of your insurer carrying on life insurance business. If your policy offers guaranteed benefits, then these will be clearly marked 'guaranteed' in the illustration table on this page. If your policy offers variable benefits, then the illustration on this page will show two different rates of assumed future investment returns of 8% p.a. and 4% p.a. These assumed rates of return are not guaranteed and they are not the upper or lower limits of what you might get back, as the value of your policy is dependent on a number of factors including future investment performance.
